

The Army Of God

The army of God
Is arising this hour
Rising in God's holy might
To do battle in His power

For this is the season,
We need to begin to rise
To show the world God's holy truth
And the hope of our risen Christ

We need to fight our enemy
Every step that we take
Because he is there to pull us down
And sow doubt within our faith

For if we listen to his lies
And fall beneath his attack,
The power of God we had before
We find we soon will lack

It's not worth the agony
To give in to his ways,
But keep your faith in Jesus Christ
Strong as your spirit prays

For this is what empowers us
And builds us up much more
So we can arise more boldly
Against the enemy of the Lord.
